

Pre-doctoral position in International Trade

The research group on trade and globalization at PSE (GPET) recruits a one-year pre-doctoral contract in international trade. The position is open and may start as soon as good candidates qualify. There is a possibility for two one-year positions. Both positions are independent and do not need to be filled simultaneously.

Employment rate: Full time

Location: Paris (PSE, Paris School of Economics)

Requirements

The pre-doctoral researcher will participate in the ANR grant on firm responsibility (RESPGLOB)'s research program. This includes participating in the construction and manipulation of databases on outsourcing and corporate responsibility commitments monitored over time (among others on French data on the CASD), conducting empirical econometric work using panel data at the company level, and also developing trade models featuring responsible companies and outsourcing.

The candidate should hold a master M1 in Economics, and have strong analytical data-handling skills. He/She should be independent, efficient, and collaborative.

Please send your application to Pamina Koenig, pamina.koenig@psemail.eu, specifying in the subject line: Pre-doctoral fellow RESPGLOB + your name and first name.

The application should include (i) a cover letter describing precisely the qualifications and skills held that match the requirements of the positions as well as previous work experience in performing tasks similar to those required (ii) a CV.
